

Dear parents/carers,

It has been so uplifting this week to see glimpses of the sun! Our school really comes into its own when the big, fiery ball in the sky shines down on us: playtimes are so much fun, the Forest School area looks appealing and the pool is enticing! As we enter this warmer season, please remember we cannot apply sun cream to our pupils, so please do so in the morning if the weather forecast looks good.

Speaking of mornings, we want to make sure we are registering pupils at 8.55am ready for the day of learning ahead. Warm, sunny days can sometimes slow down our pace, so please do whatever is necessary to drop off within the time frame of 8.45 – 8.55am. Thank you for everyone's cooperation!

The highlight this week was Apple Class's assembly, all about the life cycle of the frog. The pupils did so well with their singing, dancing and wiggling! Well done Apple Class!

Next week is our last week before half-term. One highlight will be a special arts workshop for our Years 1 and 2 on Friday, run by Rob Perry, Director of Art at Cranleigh School. The children will be learning to draw a design for the cover of the programme for this summer's Ewhurst Carnival. It should be lots of fun! Also on Friday is the next of our monthly Class Drop-ins and the PTA Tuck Shop. Do please take some time to linger a little longer after School next Friday before heading off for your half-term holiday!

Have a super weekend!

Mr. Walters
