

We have had another delightful week at Ewhurst! What a difference a bit of sunshine makes. Whilst the weather is a bit changeable please do make sure that your child comes to school with a named waterproof coat and jumper/cardigan every day, even if it does look bright in the morning.

Your child will be coming home with a curriculum newsletter today. Please do take a moment to have a read as it will inform you as to what we will be up to over the Spring Term. It also includes some helpful reminders too. Thank you to the teachers for preparing these.

Safeguarding our children and keeping them safe is our number one priority. As part of this we have created a Safeguarding leaflet for visitors and volunteers to the school. Every child will come home with this leaflet today and we would ask you to have a read and if you are volunteering refresh yourself of the information before you come in.

We really value volunteers in school and there are many ways you can make a difference. Did you know that you can also volunteer at lunchtime? We are looking for people to volunteer between 12.30-1pm each day to help facilitate play on the playground. This is a great way of supporting the school without even having to be in the classroom. If you are interested at all please do let the office know.

Mrs McConnell, Interim Headteacher

Who's who?

Hi, I am Debbie and I am the school cook and also run Explorers After School Club. I have been working here for 11 years and started when my daughter was in Apple class. I have enjoyed every minute and it is lovely having experienced both perspectives of being a parent and working at the school. Long may it continue! I have lived in Ewhurst / Cranleigh nearly all my life and even though I love travelling both near and far, I am always happy to return home to this beautiful part of the world. I love walking, reading and cooking (of course!), and am looking forward to the warmer weather when I can get back into my garden and 'advise' my hubby what needs to be done!

Our library is becoming more interactive! Have a look how on the next page.....

A new interactive display has been added to the board in the library this week. Children, siblings and carers, are invited to come and place a vote for their favourite book. To kick us off, the choice is between 'The Gruffalo' and 'A squash and a squeeze'. We will announce the winner weekly. If you have any suggestions for books you would like to see in the vote, please email Mrs Stevenson on gstevenson@ewhurst.surrey.sch.uk.
