

We have reached half term already.....and we have lots of exciting opportunities planned for after half term!

We are delighted to welcome an African drumming workshop to Ewhurst on Tues 22nd February. All the children will get involved and we are VERY excited!

Book Week is the following week and there are lots of activities planned that the children can get stuck into. To celebrate the love of reading throughout our community we would like to invite you to become a 'mystery reader' for your child's class during book week. If you would like to volunteer, you will be invited to join us at the end of our learning day during book week at 2:45pm to share your favourite children's book with the class. As you will be a 'mystery reader' the idea is to keep it a secret from the children who will be joining us that afternoon. We have five sessions to fill across the week and request that we know what book you will be reading beforehand. Please email info@ewhurst.surrey.sch.uk to apply, letting us know your availability for the week (28th February- 4th March) and the book you would like to share. You do not need to be DBS cleared as you will be in the classroom with the class teacher.

Have a wonderful half term! Mrs McConnell

What's your favourite book?

The Winner is

This week the children voted between

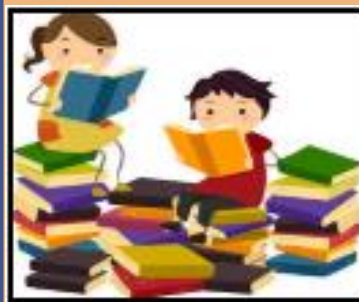

Funny Bones by Janet and Allan Ahlberg or Owl babies by Martin Waddell

'Funny Bones' won!

We are still in need of one or two more lollipop volunteers for the safety of our children! Can you spare only 20 minutes of your time a week!

Reading is so important. Are you able to support our young readers in school? We would love to welcome more volunteer readers to listen to the children reading.

Are you interested? Speak to the office!

Reading Book Amnesty

In preparation for our new phonics matched reading books (coming out after half term) please have a really good rummage to find any reading books you have at home and return them in after half term.
