

Dear parents/carers,

Today is the last day of September and what a full month it has been! The biggest event for us as a nation has been the death of Her Majesty The Queen. As a school we wanted to give our own tribute to the Queen and so we prepared a card which included pictures and messages from every pupil at Ewhurst. Sam Sierwald-Smith kindly went to Buckingham Palace to place the card together with all the other tributes. Thank you Sam!

Thank you to all the parents who came to our 'Meet The Teacher' on Monday. We Hope you found that useful.

Today we have the first of our monthly Class Drop-ins, where parents are invited to go into the class and meet the teacher Informally. The classes are open from 3pm to 3.30pm.

Next week is our Harvest Service, starting at 9.15am at the church. Parents are welcome to join us. Thank you for all the generous donations to the Cranleigh Food Bank!

On Monday 10 October at 2.15pm we will have a 40-minute Phonics Workshop for parents in the school hall. We believe it will help you all to support your child at home with their phonics and early reading. Please inform the office if you plan to attend.

Finally, I am sending out separately today a message to parents about access to the school site. We need to tighten our systems and procedures regarding access to the school building. This is for safeguarding reasons, including fire safety – we need to know at all times who is in the building. All adults from next Monday will need to be signed in if they wish to come into the building and wear a lanyard to signify this. We have considered these actions carefully, in consultation with Governors and safeguarding advisors, and believe it will help ensure that we are fulfilling our obligations to keep pupils and adults safe and secure. Thank you for your understanding and support.

Best wishes and have a lovely weekend!
